

March Madness!

Learn More Now!

The Recession: One Year Later

Get ahead of the spec!
Get architects to design with your products in mind.

Architectural Record's March issue brings the latest, and most innovative projects, products and unique solutions to the forefront of the design community.

March coverage includes:

- The Recession: One Year Later – In our March feature story, Record editors revisit the past year and the impact that today's economy has had on architecture and on projects – online and in print.
- Projects – Record presents a portfolio, both online and in print, of the most far-forward thinking in design today, including:
 - Agave Library, Arizona (Architect: Will Bruder)
 - Barn, Massachusetts (Architects: Kennedy & Violich)
 - Mainz Markthaus, Mainz (Architects: Massimiliano & Fuksas)
 - Neues Museum, Berlin (Architect: David Chipperfield)
- Building Type Study – Transportation Facilities

Reach 116,000+ architects and specifiers in print and 190,000+ online* – in the most widely read architecture magazine and web site and e-newsletter.

* Sources: June 2009 ABC Statement, Web Trends, Jan-June, 2009

PLUS!

All full page+ advertisers are automatically entered into the AR Excellence in Advertising Awards. These awards are juried by top architects and revealed at an event during the AIA National Convention.

Reserve your space today.

For more information, contact your McGraw-Hill Construction Account Manager or email mhcmedia@mcgraw-hill.com.

Get your products into more projects, with your ads in March Architectural Record.